Course Description/Objectives

This course is intended for science majors, premed students, and others who would benefit from a strong background in organic chemistry. It covers the first twenty-four chapters of the textbook, with a focus on structure and properties of organic compounds and an introduction to the chemical reactivity of simple structural elements. By the end of the course, students should have a working knowledge of the concepts covered in each chapter, including an appreciation for trends in reactivity and an ability to imagine organic molecules in their true, three-dimensional shapes. Specific objectives for each chapter are available in the textbook.

Exams:

There will be three Hour Tests and a Final Exam. Note their scheduled dates now and plan your calendar accordingly. There will be no make-up tests; the final exam will be prorated to cover any excused absences on test days.

Hour Test 1	Wednesday, September 23	100 points
Hour Test 2	Wednesday, October 21	100 points
Hour Test 3	Wednesday, November 18	100 points
Final Exam	MONDAY, December 7, 10:00 am – 12:00 pm	250 points

Quizzes:100 points

Short quizzes will be given in recitation. There will be no make-up quizzes, just as there are no make-up lectures. The best 10 quiz scores will be counted.

Homework:

You are encouraged to work as many problems at the end of the chapter as you are able. Some of these problems will appear on quizzes, tests, and the final exam!

Homework (continued):

You may turn in original work on the end of chapter problems, if you wish, for “extra” credit (up to two points per chapter, up to 20 total for the semester). Please turn in at least twenty different problems per chapter, worked neatly, correctly, and not copied from the solutions manual. You should only work one problem from each question. (For example in chapter 11, problems 11.31b, 11.37–11.40, and 11.50c count as six problems.) Please keep a copy for your records; your homework will not be returned.

Any end-of-chapter problems for which you want credit must be turned in attached to your quiz in the first recitation after we finish covering the chapter in class. Refer to the Course Schedule if you are unsure when we finish each chapter.

Study Hints:

Take an active role, not a passive one, in learning new material! Prepare for class by reading ahead, so that you know before you arrive what will be covered. A large portion of the course involves solving various problems. Practice, practice, practice, by working as many of the end-of-chapter homework problems as you can.

Honor Code

Students are expected to uphold the Academic Honor Code. The Academic Honor System of The Florida State University is based on the premise that each student has the responsibility to:

1. Uphold the highest standards of academic integrity in the student’s own work,
2. Refuse to tolerate violations of academic integrity in the University community, and
3. Foster a high sense of integrity and social responsibility on the part of the University community.

Cheating will result in an automatic “F.” The full honor code is available at

<http://www.fsu.edu/~union/honor.htm>

Blackboard and Class Web Pages

Your web interface with the course will be through Blackboard. You must obtain an FSU Email account on garnet or mailer in order to access this material! A separate handout describes the Blackboard interface. You can register for an FSU account at:

ADA Requirements

Students with disabilities needing academic accommodations should:

1. Register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center (SDRC).
2. Bring a letter to the instructor form the SDRC indicating you need academic accommodations. This should be done within the first week of class.
